

YOUR LAW OFFICE

Rhona L. Waxman Law Offices provides individualized legal services that respond to the specific needs of our clients. Here you will achieve the best possible legal resolution while benefiting from a sensitive environment and personalized attention.

Personalized Services

We believe in your need for peace of mind under these critical circumstances. We want you to understand all the stages of your case and what your alternatives are, and we want to help you make the right choices for your circumstances. We understand that your case's success depends on excellent communication with those who will be fighting for your rights.

Rhona L. Waxman Law Offices provides you with an experienced team of professionals. Everyone on the team will know the specifics of your case and the importance of establishing and maintaining close contact with you. Other services you receive include help navigating the medical and legal system, referrals to the best psychological and medical professionals, and help navigating or eliminating red tape. We want to talk to you when you need to talk to us. This is why we have chosen not to use voice mail. Give us a call.

Accessible

Our offices are conveniently located in downtown Hamilton. Our offices can easily be reached by public transit. Our offices are wheelchair accessible and the entrance has automatic doors. There are two public parking lots, one to the side of our office building and one behind. Rhona L. Waxman Law Office's proximity to courthouses, commerce and other venues makes it easier for you to save travel time and energy when you want to meet with us. Call us if you need further information on how to get to our office or click here.

Network of Professionals

Your well-being does not only depend on our proven capacity to put your rights first. We also provide you with referrals to a network of excellent health professionals. Rehabilitation Services Adviser, Renee Levesque, brings thirty years of experience working with the medical and rehabilitation community. Her long-standing relationship with physicians, chiropractors, psychologists, and therapists guarantees fast and sensitive treatment for our clients.

Technology

Our offices are equipped with up to date technology and software. This allows us to maintain electronic files of all case documents, making it easier, safer and faster to archive, maintain, provide copies and administer information, while safeguarding your right to privacy and security. The work hours, infrastructure and materials we save translate into less costs for us and, therefore, for you.
